A PLACE FOR US

MAKING DECISIONS

TO TAKE A STAND

The preceding and following pages reflect the faces and the happenings at the Utica Campus. The 1989 Uticanite has chosen as its theme, "A Place For Us." Everything and everybody have a place in life, but more importantly, need to belong to a place in life, in the universe. That place, if it is to be one of satisfaction, gratification and self-fulfillment, is a place for which we create for ourselves and not one that another person puts us in. That is every individual's right.

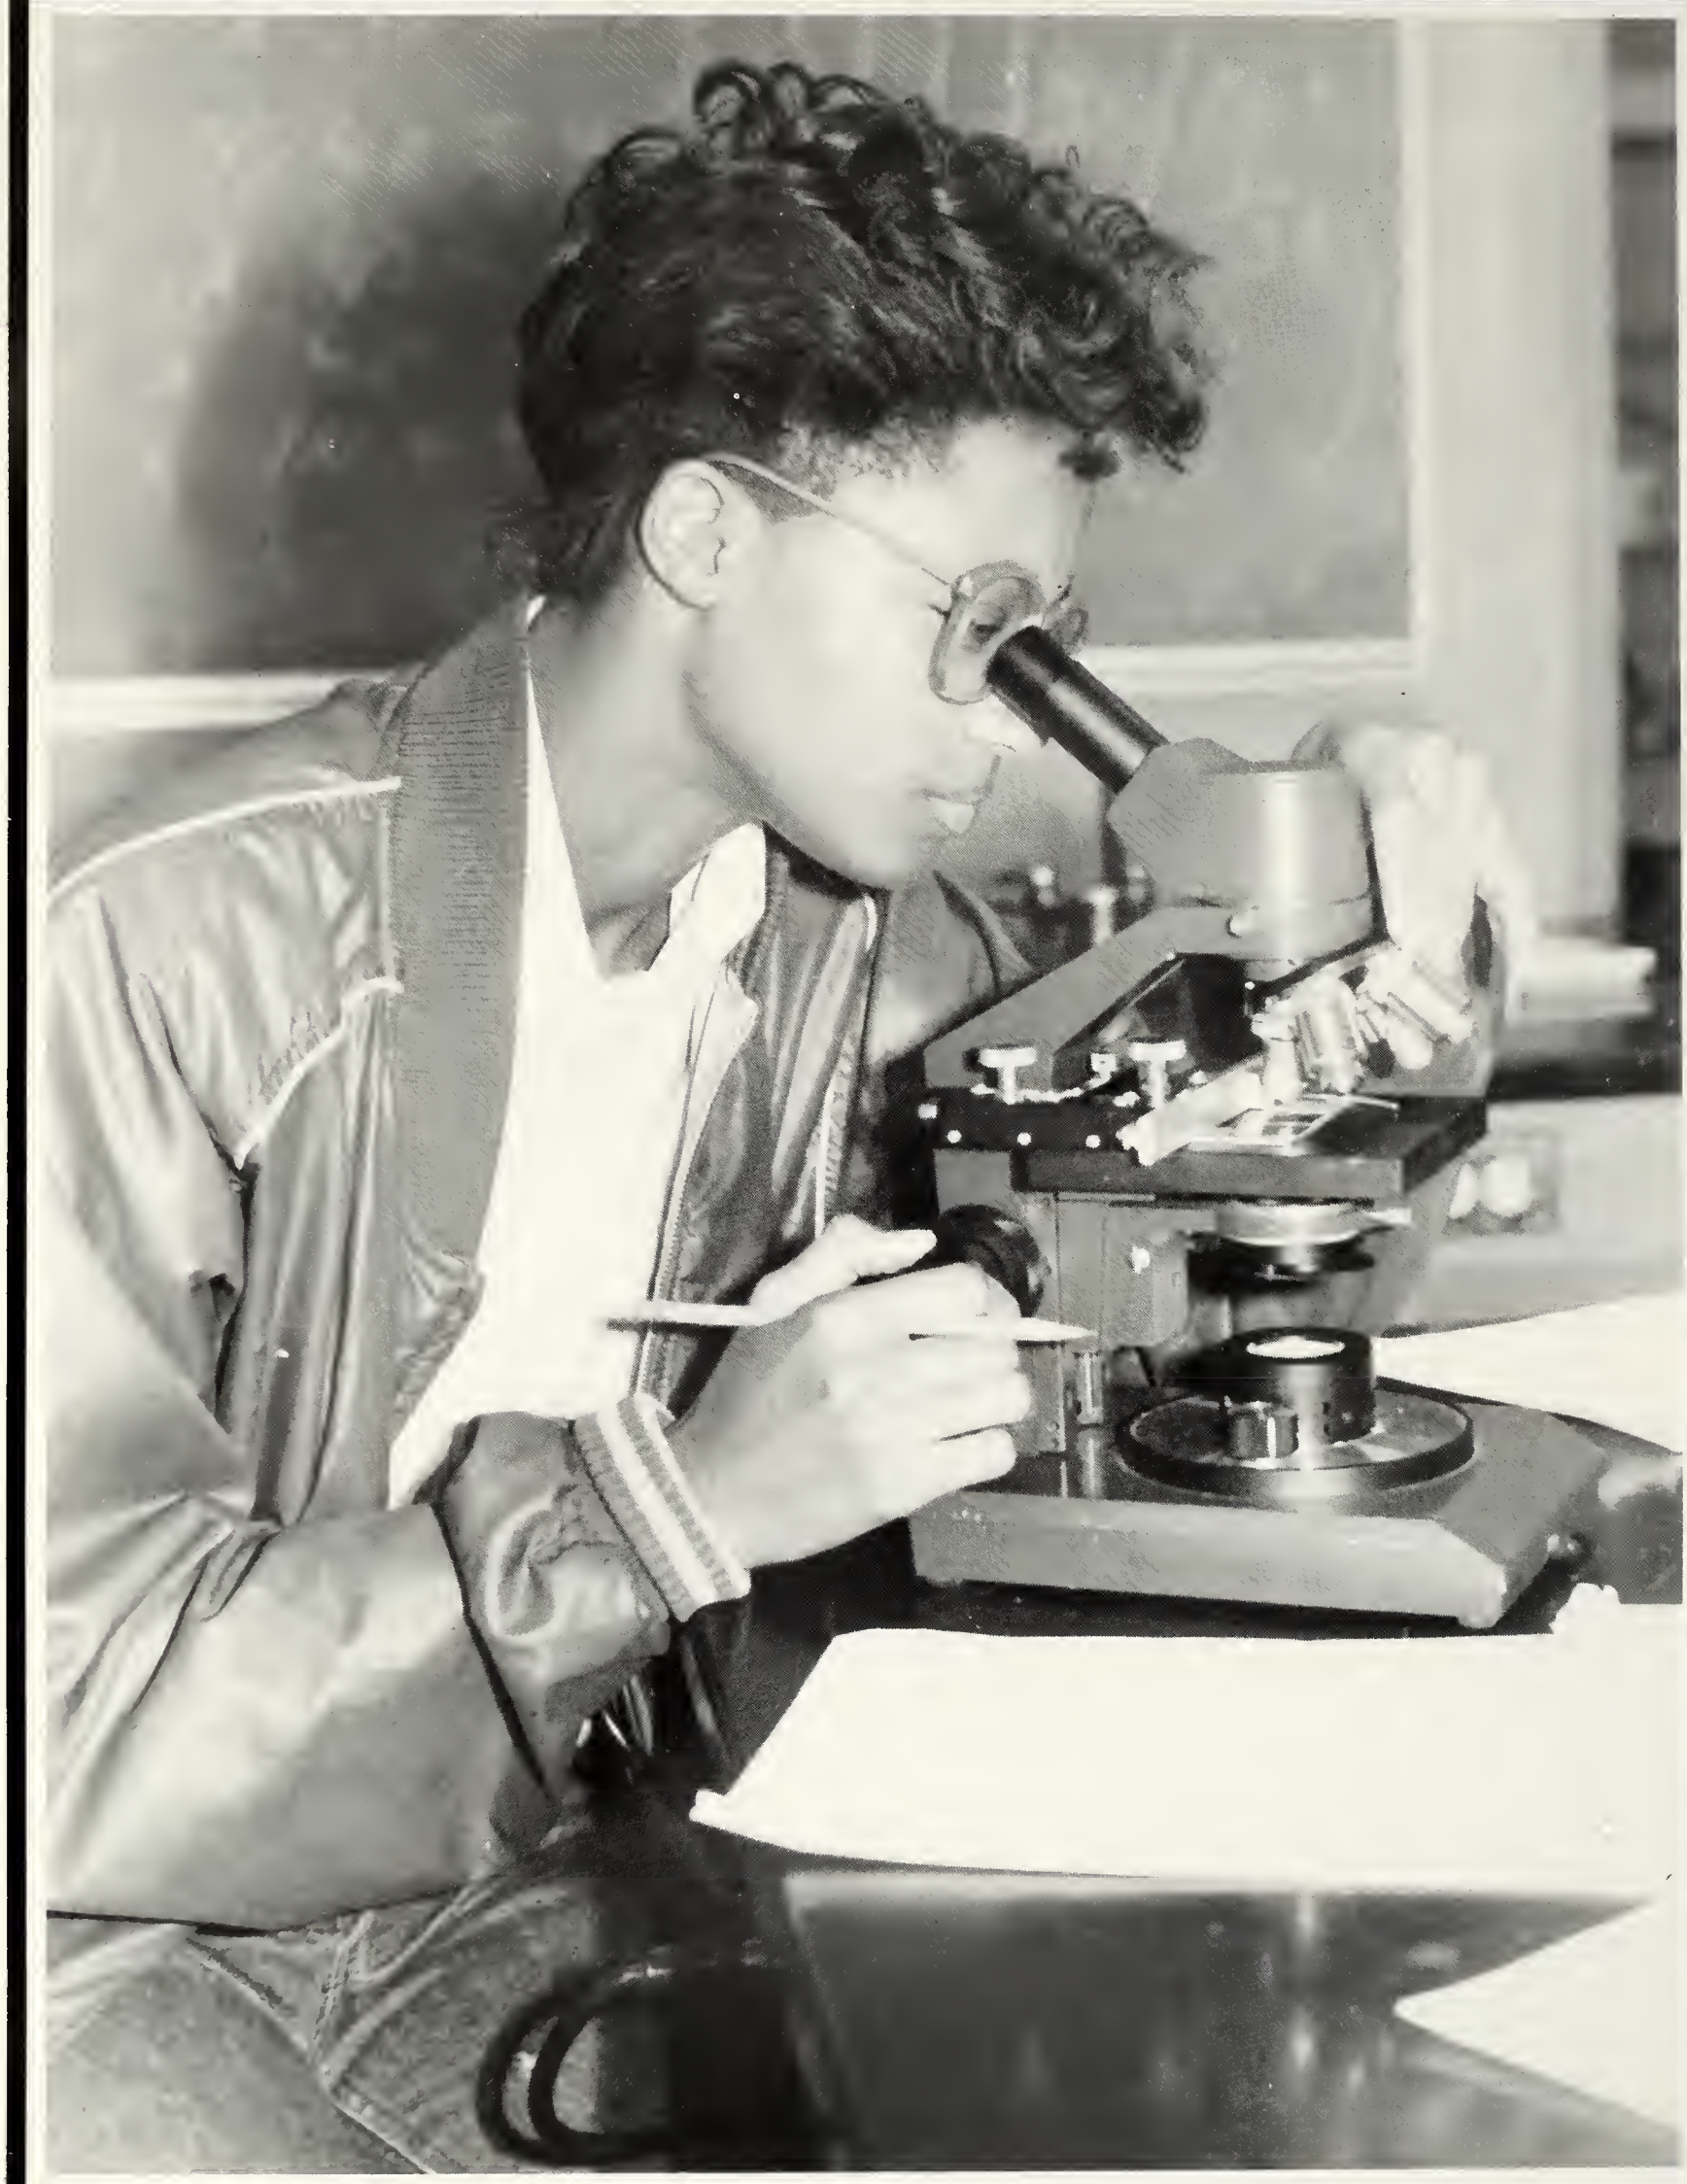
United or solo — The Bulldogs are bad.



There must be a solution to even life's smallest problems, and I am going to fine it.

SOARING TO NEW HEIGHTS

MAKING WAVES

Hanging out around the girls' dormitories is what these guys seem to enjoy more than eating. Again, they have missed making it to the cafeteria before closing hours.

Cheryl, Louis and Pam claim not to enjoy picture taking. Doesn't it show?

Terry is able to maintain his calm disposition in spite of just having been told by his favorite lady to get lost.

The "A-TEAM" gather to plan strategies for their next mission. They've been assigned to live up to their name.

Leaving campus is a sad time for some commuter students, however, some students wouldn't have it any other way.

Cassandra and Vickie are virtually inseparable.

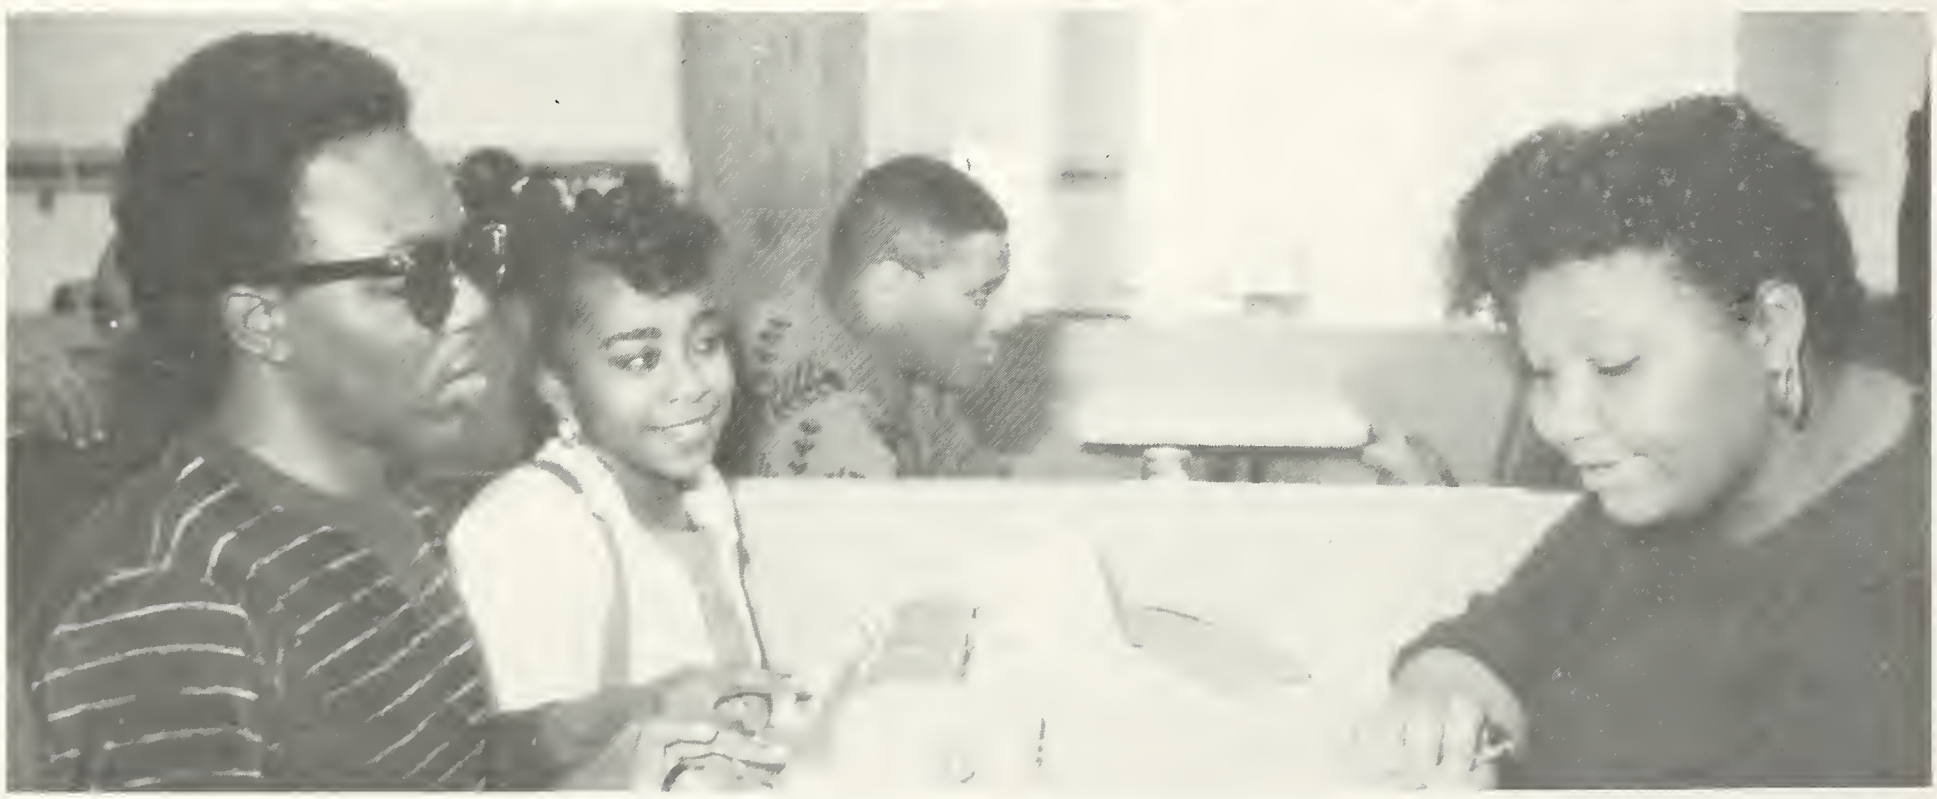
THEY ALL HAVE A STORY TO TELL

AND IT'S THE UTICA EXPERIENCE

MAKING TRACKS TOWARD THE FUTURE

Relatives of the school's founder, Dr. William H. Holtzclaw, visit the Utica Campus. They are working on a video project tracing their heritage.

Lieutenant Earnestine Broome, 1985 Miss Utica Campus, plans to made a career in the armed services. She poses with two of her role models, Mrs. Bessie Brown, English instructor, and Charles Bell, student union director.



Calvin uses his Braille writer to take notes from classmates Susie and Denise. He is an honor student who enjoys playing piano, saxophone, and drums.

Smith enjoys food services. Her talents are utilized often to bake cakes and other goodies.

Pam works on blue prints for her first high rise complex. She says that she is determined to make it.

WE LEARN TO LOVE

WE LEARN TO CARE

The World of Beauty

In their spare time, some of the students come to the barber shop for cuts, perms, wash & sets, manicures and facials.

The Wonders of Sewing

Luvenia is getting ready to make pants for the Coronation Ball participants.

Susan needs to finish her dress for the homecoming parade.

Helen is trying to type her term paper before her next class.

LIFE'S PROBLEMS!

If it takes all day Edith will find the solution for the nitrogen explosion.

Carolyn and June have a report to complete before their next class. The sun helps them to relax and think.

Michael decides to offer his opinion. The girls however, find it humorous.

COMPELX — YET SOLVABLE

Edith starts from the beginning with her experiment of mixing various gases to come up with a chemical for pest control.

Larry and Dee Dee discuss physics problems.

Mr. Darbandi advises Theresa to take Economics I instead of calculus the first semester.

A LEARNING EXPERIENCE

Olivia & Peaches spend most of their evening recording in the studio.

Sun bathing is not something Pat, Debra, and Joseph relish as a past-time. They enjoy a relaxing evening of pleasant conversation in their favor spot — underneath a shade tree.

TRICKS OF THE TRADE

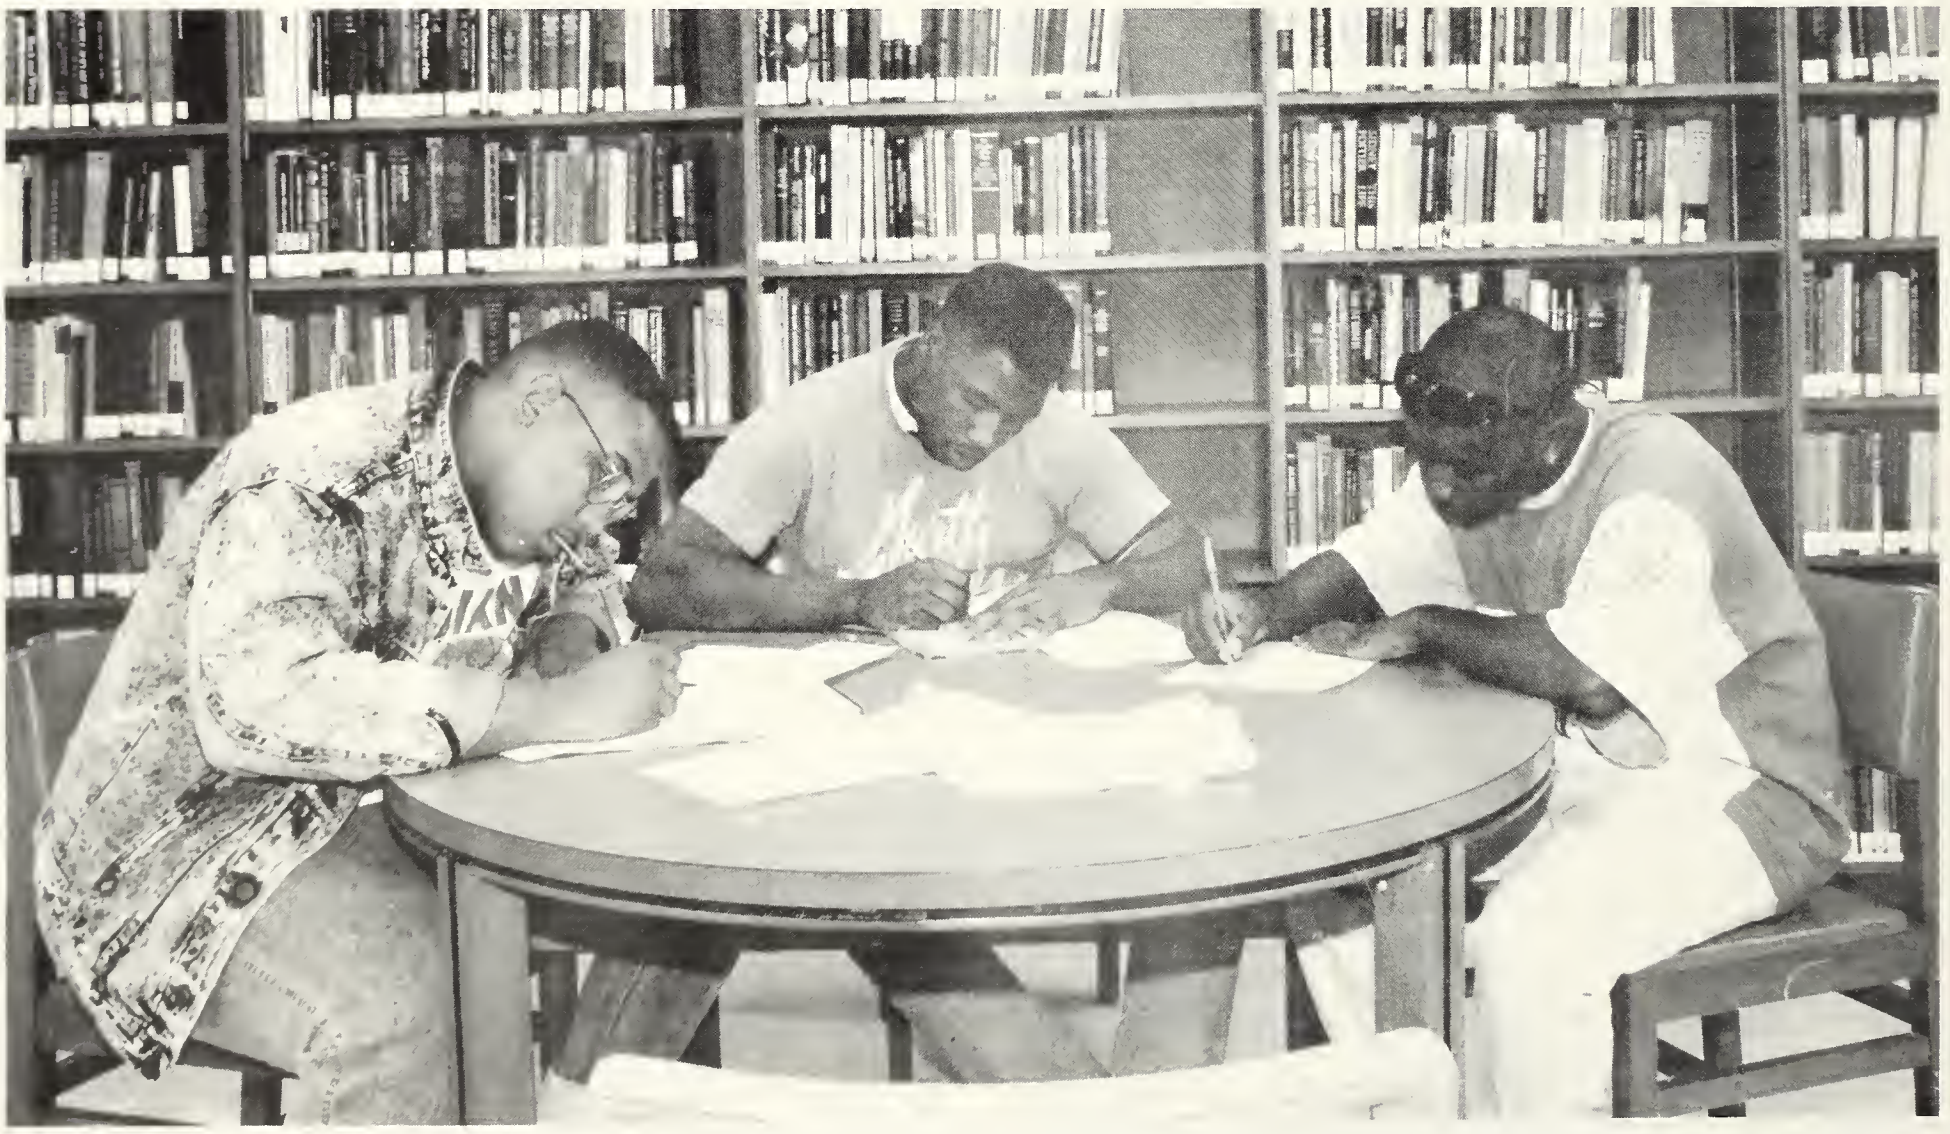
Wilson works on the blueprint for constructing the Homecoming parade floats.

Steve and Gloria spend most evenings studying together in the library. John looks for his favorite book — A BLACK MAN'S BURDEN.

Olivia and Peaches decide to forget their assignment and just listen to some relaxing music.

TEAM WORK OR ALONE . . .

Paul, Vickie, Watson, John and Carol all have one thing in common. They all believe in utilizing the resources available in the library.



Even though the library shelves are filled with resource books, John, Steve and Carl seem to be finding all the answers they need from Gloria's paper. They say that it is easier to understand once it has been compiled.

DEDICATION IS THE KEY

Debra and Mr. Lee practice on the theme song from "Chariots of Fire." Debra enjoys playing piano, key board, flute and saxophone. Nevertheless, she has mastered other instruments.

A Love For The Right Chemistry

Victoria loves working in the chemistry lab. She enjoys measuring, separating, and mixing chemicals. Her favorite procedure is combining chemicals to gain a perfect crystalline formation.

TAKING INTEREST IN STUDYING

Gracy, Particia, and Stephanie believe in studying together because they can benefit from each other's knowledge.

Bryan loves to play basketball but he realizes that an education is more important.

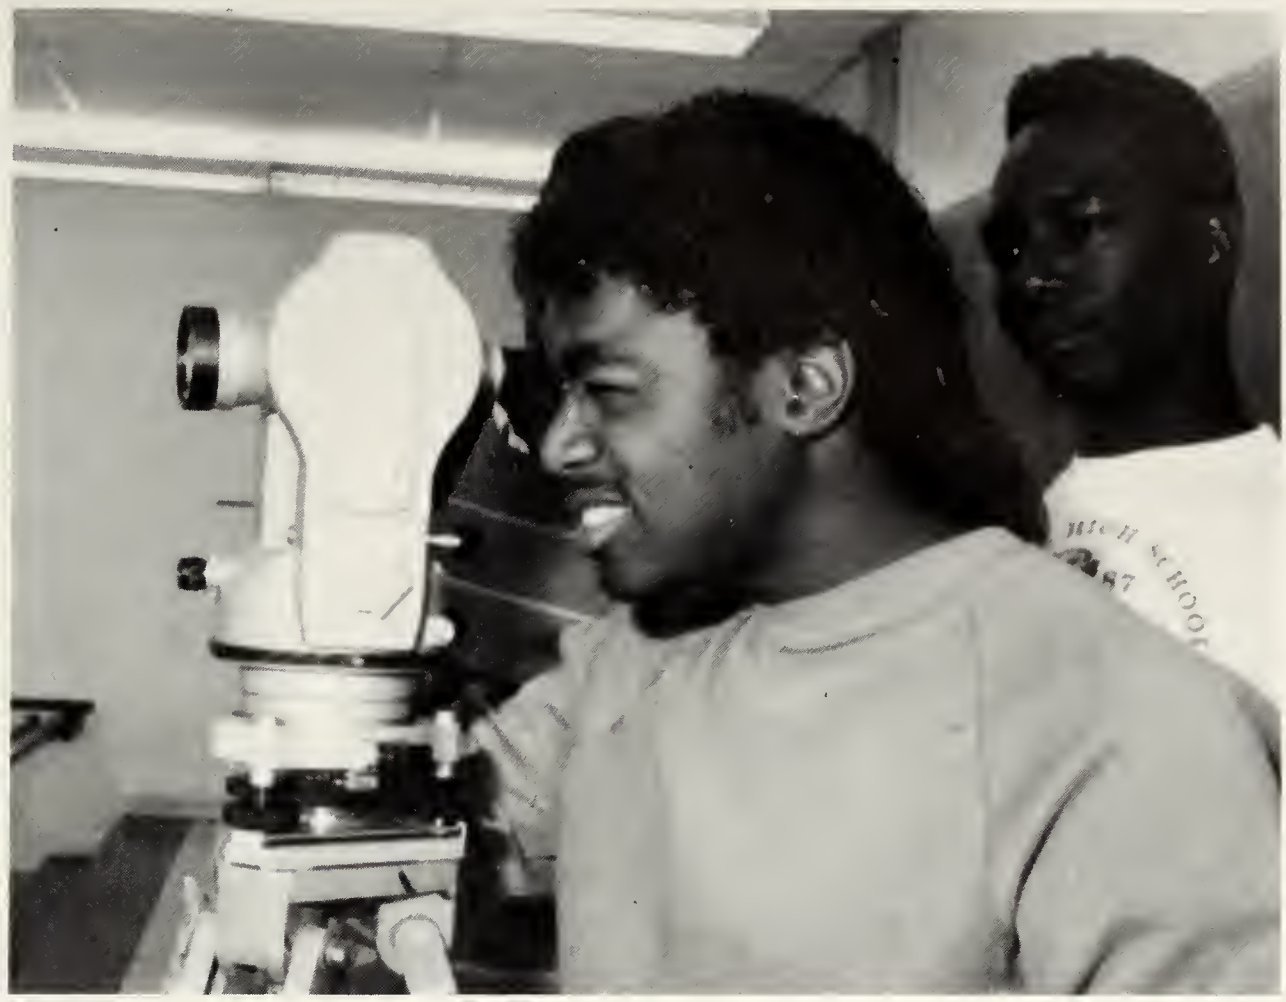
LEARNING TO

Reachell uses the word processor to type a term paper that is due for her English class. She finds the speller one of its most valuable assets.

Gary tries to get the correct alignment before going outside to survey. Jeff waits anxiously to get started on the project.

Gloria checks her credits against her debits only to find out that she is hundreds of dollars in the "red."

ASSESS LIFE'S LITTLE PROBLEMS



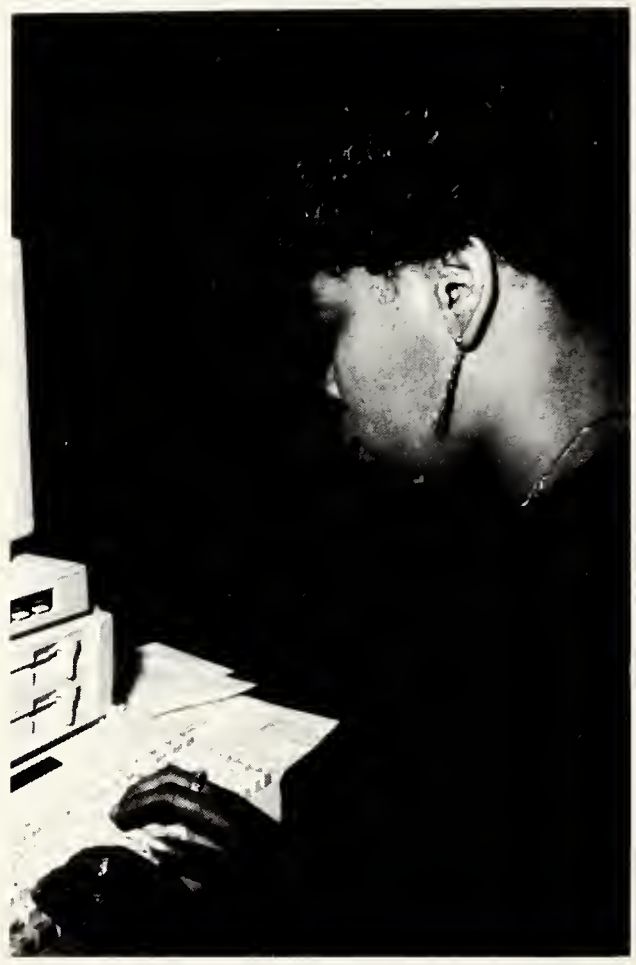
Charles has accepted the responsibility for surveying the administration building. Gary and his friends will spearhead the actual construction. Their first task is to knock down the wall.

Dr. Jackson works independently with Regina on problem solving. Learning the formula for solving the statistics problems seem to be Regina's biggest challenge. Nevertheless, Dr. Jackson is full of patience.

LEARNING TO WORK INDEPENDENTLY

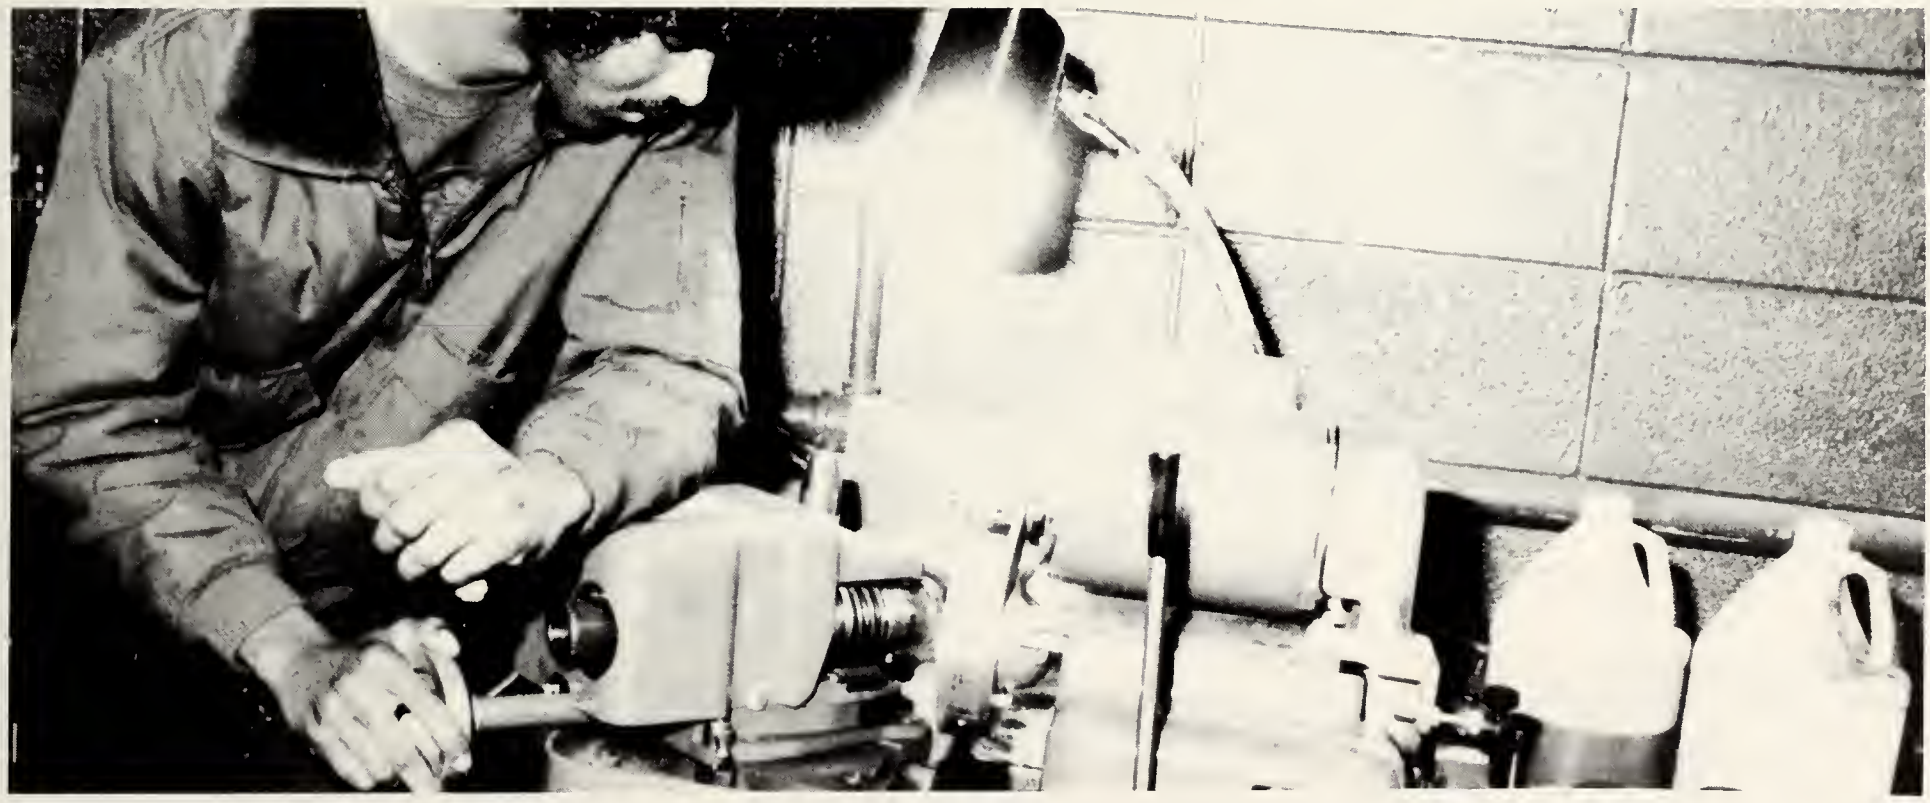
Mr. Jordan works with Joanne on problems she is encountering in her social science class. She is finding it difficult to make it to class on time. Therefore, she needs to be brought up on what he talks about the 30 minutes before she gets there.

Kevin, Sammie and John look over ledger for economics class during lunch hour. Being aware of the economy and how it works is what they try to always be aware of.



Smith plans to become an executive secretary on Capital Hill. She familiarizes herself with as much computer equipment as possible.

Working on motors, transmissions and other automotive parts is all in a day's work for Willie, Glenn, and Necko.



Edward loves using his hands. He is making his own personal set of tools. His major is machine shop.

HOMECOMING PARADE

The annual Homecoming Parade was held Friday, October 7, at 2:30 PM in downtown Utica. The College celebrated its 85th year of existence. Decorative floats and cars adorned the streets. College and high school bands, drill teams, dance troupes and cheering squads completed the festive event.

The featured band was Alcorn State University. With more than 150 members, the ASU marching band executed precision in their dance routine as they performed a variety of music.

The nursery school children enjoy the glitz and glamour of the Homecoming Parade.

Raymond and Nichole were among some 75 participants in the parade.

Gelston & Betty represented the barbering department.

Kenneth & Carolyn represented the United Campus Ministry. Carolyn throws candy to on-lookers.

Peaches, Peaches, Peaches. Everyone seem to enjoy the friendliness of her presence.

Harry & Lisa represented the usher club.

UTICA CAMPUS, UTICA, MS 39175-9599

VICE PRESIDENT FOR UTICA CAMPUS ADMINISTRATIVE AND STUDENT SERVICES

January 11, 1989

Faculty, Students and Friends:

We express our sincere thanks to the yearbook staff for compiling such a picturesque display of life on the Utica Campus. This pictorial story demonstrates the role this institution plays in the academic and social growth of those individuals who are entrusted to us.

Congratulations are in order for those persons who have helped to make this a successful year. Unfortunately, anywhere there is a congregation of people, there will be problems. However, because of the professionalism exhibited by the faculty and staff and your conduct which was exemplary of college students, our misfortunes were minimized. For this, we are grateful. This action shows that the major concern for the year was giving and/or receiving quality education. Additionally, we admire you for gearing your activities and time toward the betterment of this institution. Needless to say, we could not survive without your continued support, which we appreciate greatly.

Again, we are appreciative to those who had input in drafting these pages and those who had the initiative to provide material to display on these pages.

Sincerely yours,

George E. Barnes, Vice-President

The Utica Campus Family is comprised of the administration, faculty, staff and students. Each group has its own unique role to play in the productivity of the developing link. The personalities featured on these two pages are a representative group of the ones who teach, advise, inspire, motivate, nurture and mold, in one way or another, the young lives that have been entrusted to them. The underscoring similarity behind each face is a drive to be the best that each one can be and to enhance the lives of those who aspire to follow in their foot steps.

The backbone of an institution are those faces that are rarely seen. The ones that make the difference. Among them are the maintenance, food service and transportation staffs. They all play an individual and unique part in the operation of the total unit. We are grateful to those who give their all — their best — not for praise nor recognition but, because they care. They take pride in not just doing a job, but in doing it well.

HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL

The student Government Organization sponsored a fun-filled evening of shear horror and pleasure the night of Halloween 1988. The entire student body as well as the community participated in the event. Prizes were awarded to winners of the Win, Lose, or Draw, Musical Chairs, Fish Hunt, and Free Throw competitions. The Most Unique Costume winner also received a prize. The feast included candle apples, cup cakes, candy, beverages and various other snack foods. Richard White, SGO president, with the assistance of Mrs. Mary Nell Scott, coordinated the activity.

The Child Care Technology students visited various offices on campus in search of halloween goodies. Their pumpkins were filled.

Greg, a contestant for the Most Unique Costume prize, performs a dance routine in his effort to win.

Earlene and Vanessa serve as the witches for the haunted house. They removed their facial costumes for the photo session.

DANCERS IN THE ROUGH

Children from throughout the community participated in the carnival. Their favorite seemed to have been musical chairs. Afterwhich, they took a few dance lessons from some of the college students.

HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL

Students as well as community guests participated in the Halloween Carnival. Steve is vying for the Most Unique Costume prize. (Below) Cassandra flaunts her Raggedy Ann look as others just enjoy the food.

CHILD CARE GOES TRICK OR TREATING

RECIPROCATED APPRECIATION

The Utica Campus secretaries got together during the month of October and decided to honor their bosses for being the "good supervisors" that they are. The Food Service Department prepared a continental breakfast for some 20-30 bosses and their secretaries. The informal setting included greetings, invocation and remarks from various departments. The breakfast was in celebration of National Boss Day.

PHI THETA KAPPA

Phi Theta Kappa is a nationally recognized scholarship fraternity of students of the community/junior colleges. The Utica Campus Chapter, Alpha Beta Xi, strives to uphold the standards of PTK by serving the community and Campus while promoting scholarships. Each semester new initiates are sworn in during the Candlelighting Ceremony. These initiates are charged to make truth and service their hallmarks as they embark as future leaders.

Principal Charles Langston, kept the audience on the edge of their seats as he talked about characteristics of a leader.

"THE CLIMATE AND CHARACTER OF LEADERSHIP"

Debra Mays, a sophomore music major performed a medley of songs during the presentation.

The theme for the fall initiation was "The Climate and Character of Leadership: Old Frontiers, New Frontiers" and the Chapter, its guest, friends, relatives and instructors listened to a dynamic presentation delivered by Principal Charles Langston of the Hinds Agricultural High School. During his talk, Mr. Langston cited numerous qualities of leadership and inspired the audience with his "straight talk" approach.

Larry takes great pride in the Candlelighting Ceremony.

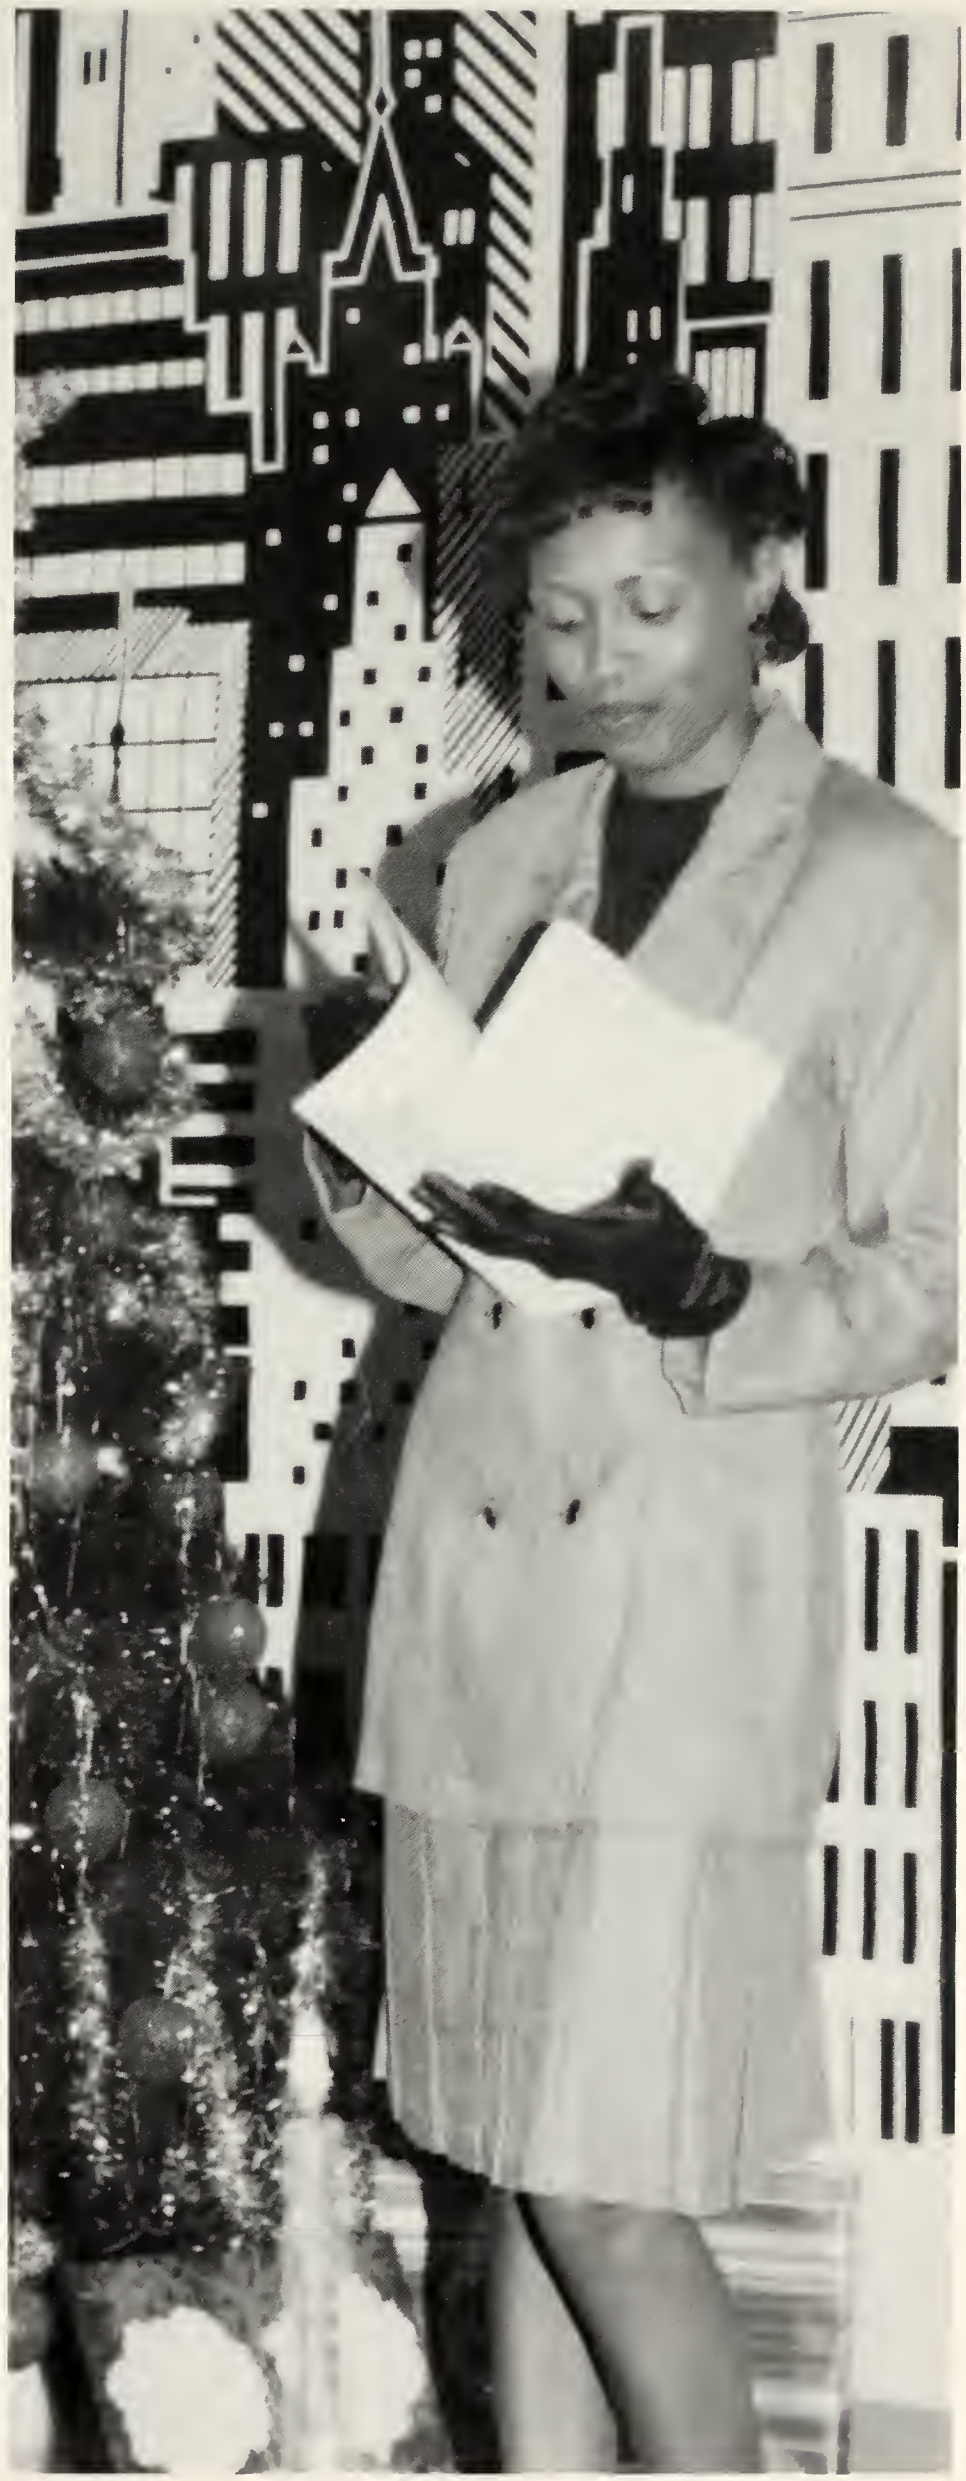
The rubber stamp that seals the initiation ceremony is the signing of the scroll. Stacey places her name on the official roster.

A NIGHT OF ELEGANCE

The annual fashion show sponsored by the Clothing and Textile Department held its grand affair during the Christmas season. The event was comparable to the season — cheery, exciting, gala and charismatic. Eight young ladies modeled garments that they designed as projects for the fall semester. Their creations ranged from evening wear to sleep wear. The models were all vying for the title of "Model of the Year." The judges were composed of high school, college and community representatives. They were Magdalene Jackson, Hinds Agricultural High School: Mary Killingsworth, Utica Community; Fred Lewis and Margaree Jenkins, both Utica Campus employees. Debra Woodman is the clothing and textile instructor, and Marilyn Binion, child care instructor, was the coordinator of the fashion show.

Luevella Brown models a harvest gold and black semi western outfit with dropped waist. Her accessories include a black western hat, boots, and gold necklaces and earrings.

Lucie Green seemed to have been the "Belle of the Ball." She is wearing a black and gold velvet two piece formal outfit. Her accessories include gold earrings, necklace, and gold after five pumps.



Linda Morton is wearing a light brown two-piece double breast suit. Her accessories include black gloves, blouse, earrings and shoes. Linda was also third runner-up.

THE WINNER'S CIRCLE

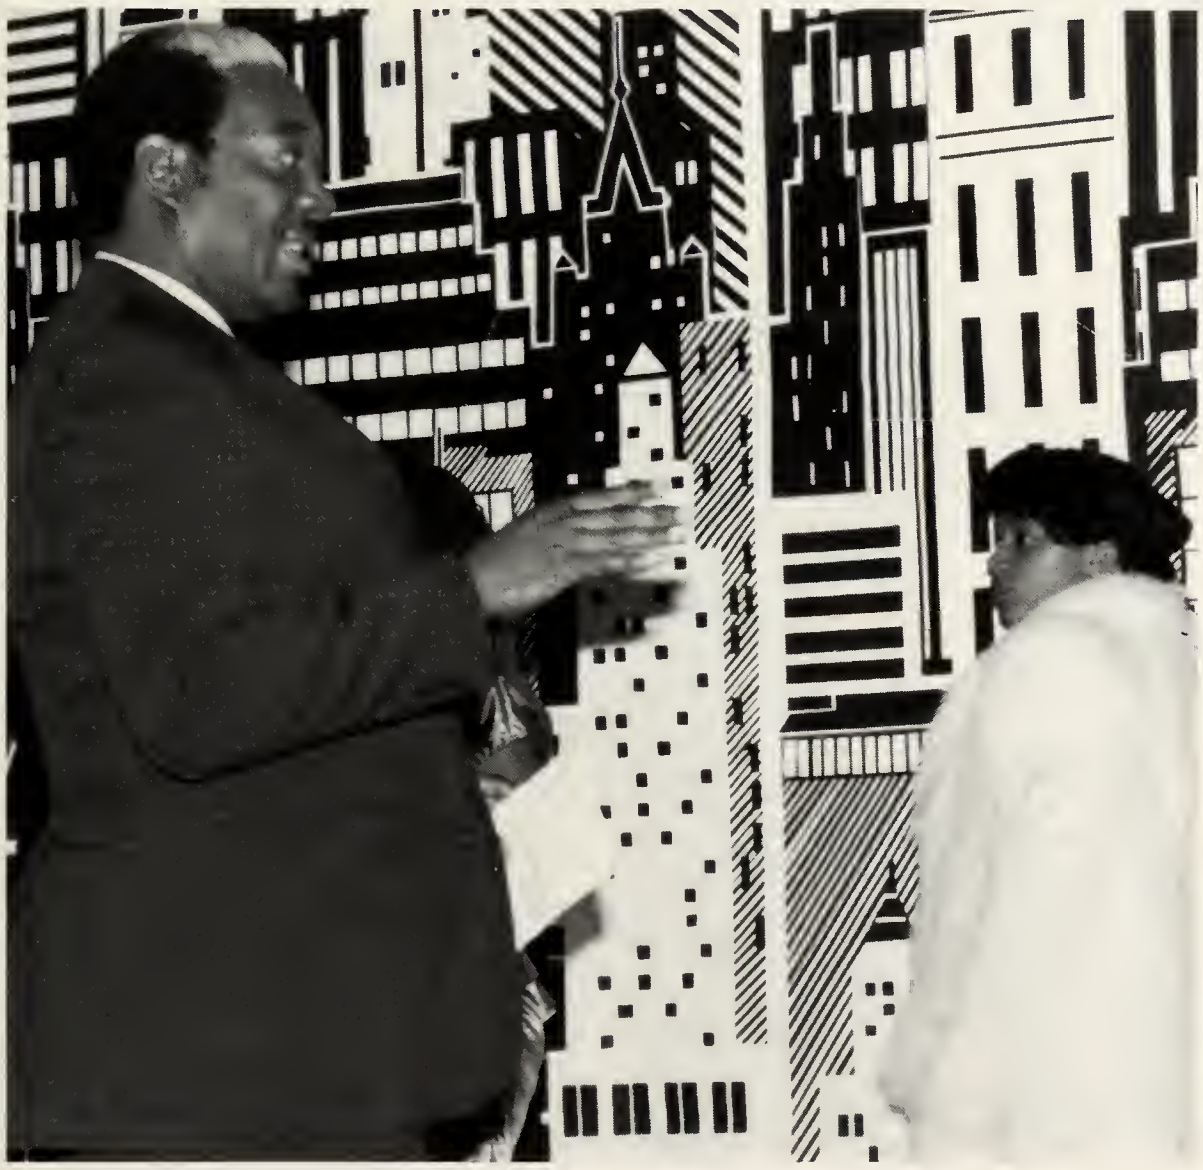
Vivian Flemings is modeling a two-piece pink and black suit. Her accessories include a black blouse and matching pumps. Gold stud earrings and watch complete the ensemble.

Yvonne Thomas walked away with second place honors. She is wearing a red velvet two piece suit. Her accessories include a black blouse, pumps and belt. She adds a little glimmer to her outfit with gold bracelet and earrings.

Dr. Eugene Gaston, dean of instruction, announces winner and presents the winning trophy.

"Model of the Year" Lucie Green is congratulated by coordinator Marilyn Binion.

Lucie shows off her winning trophy and that winning smile.



Dr. Gaston provides encouraging words to all of the participants.

FALL GRADUATION

Graduates look over the details before the processional. They share a few quiet moments reminiscencing about their college days.

Kimberly Lynch from Waukekan, Illinois was among the graduates during the commencement exercise held at the Raymond Campus during the fall.

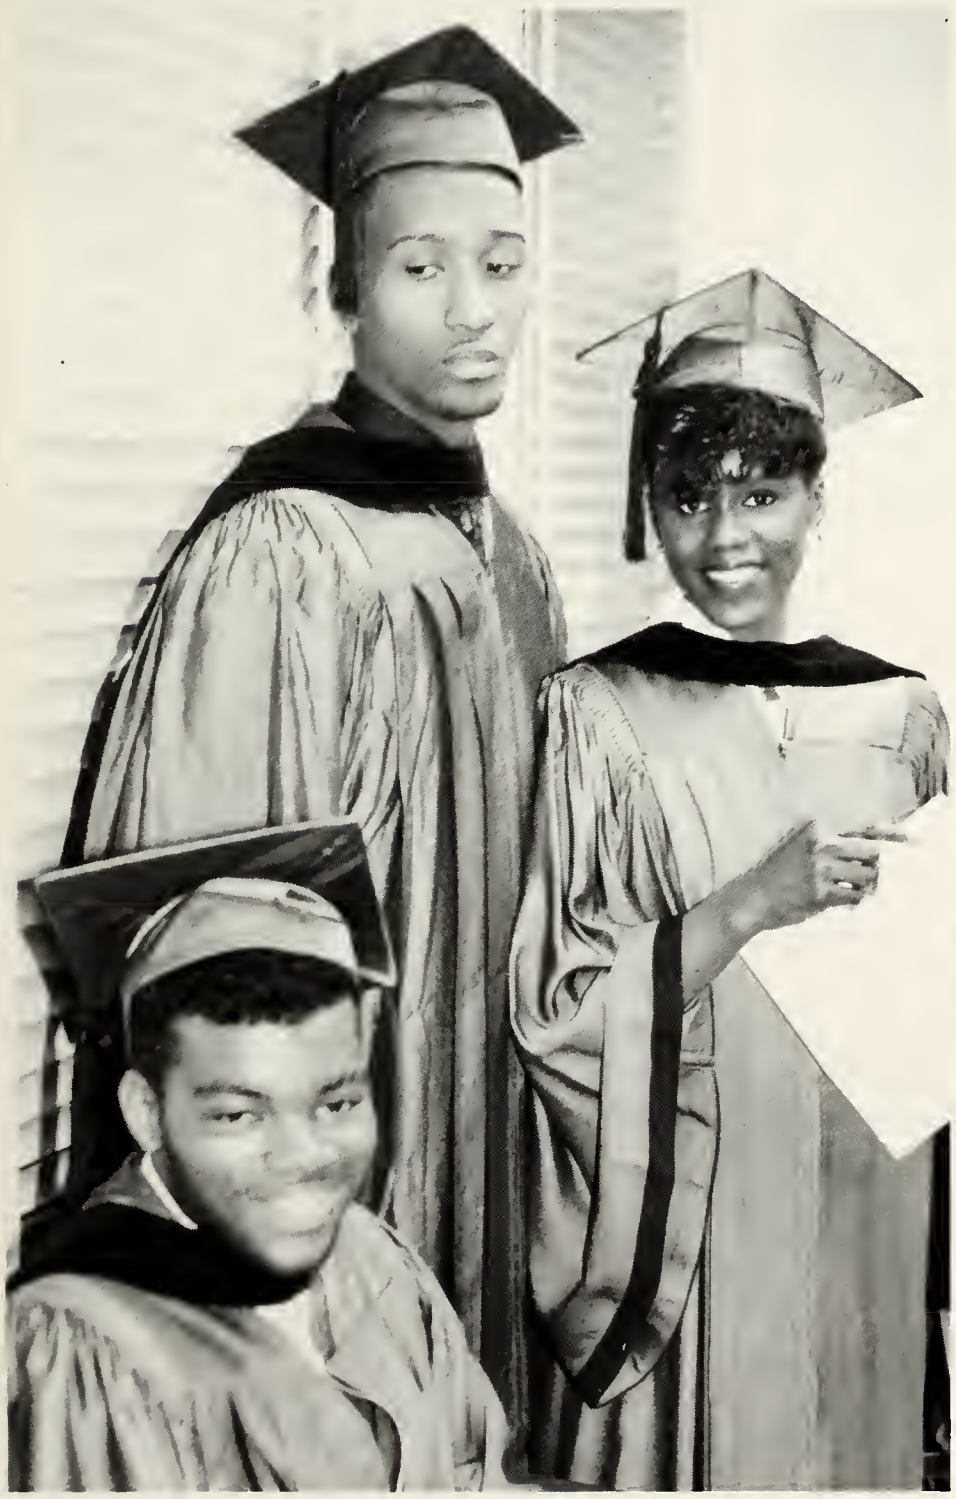
Dr. Jessie Killingsworth, Voc-tech dean, and Vice-President George Barnes share in conversation prior to the program line up. Dr. Killingsworth served as an honor marshall.



Moments before actually receiving that degree can be a time of many reflections.

The faces shown and expressions captured seem evident of gladness as well as solitude.

Kimberly seems anxious to began her new journey. She is now enrolled at Jackson State University.

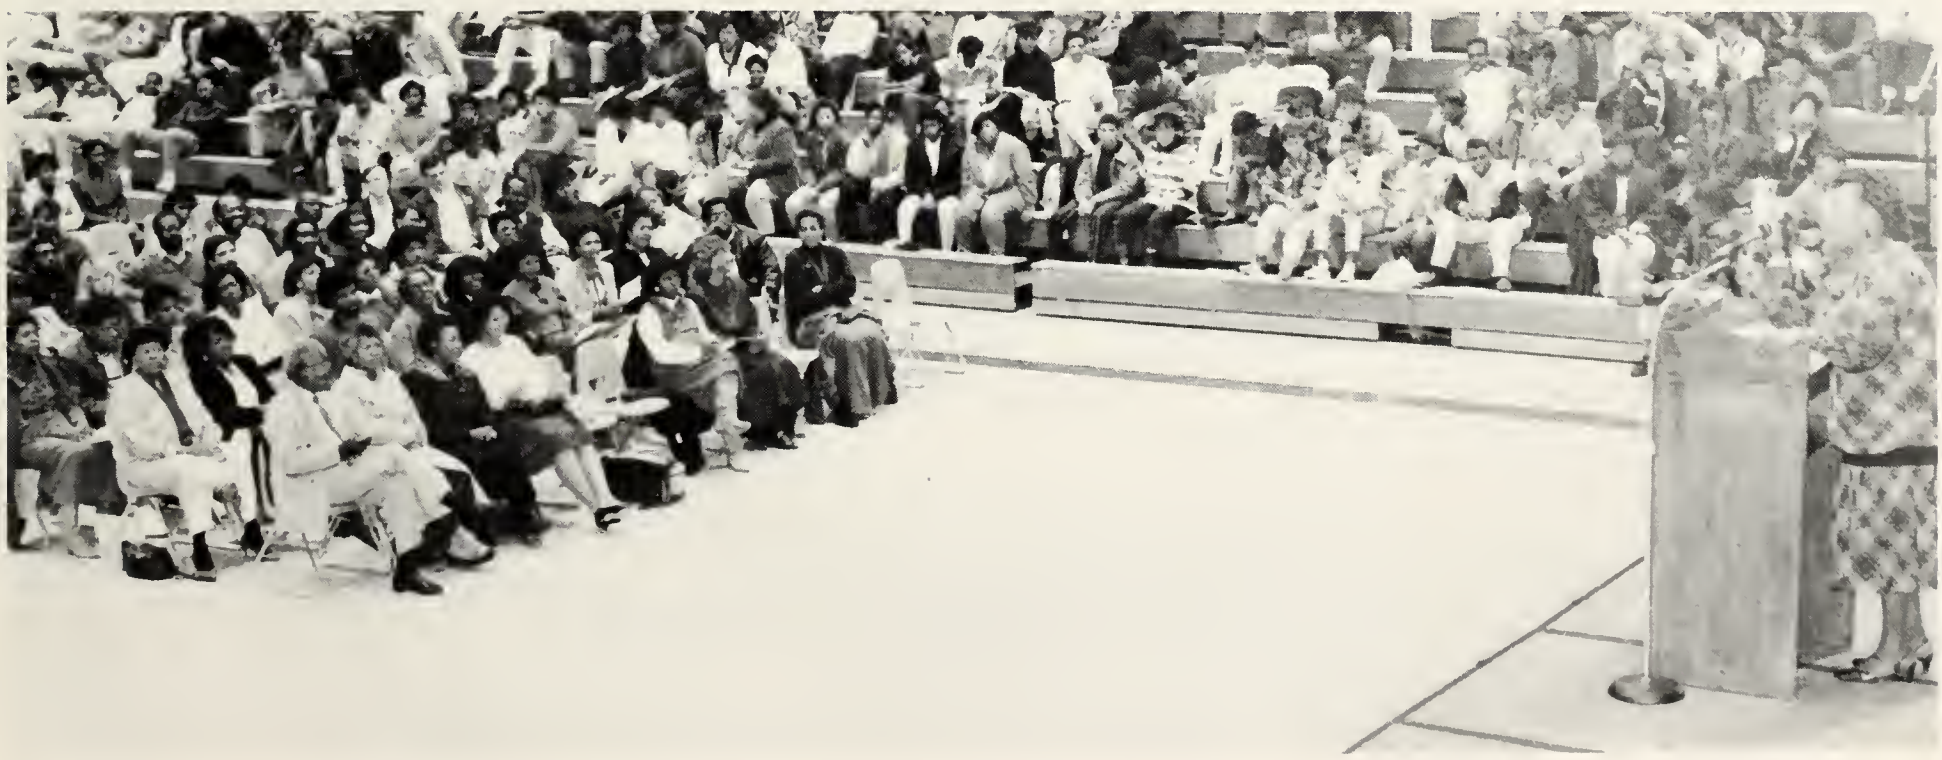
CELEBRATING DR. KING'S BIRTHDAY

Ms. Sherry Fisher, government and economics instructor at Vicksburg High School, was keynote speaker for the Dr. Martin Luther King's birthday celebration. Her message was focused on the program theme, "Martin Luther King, Jr.: Phophet for Global Justice." Ms. Fisher kept the audience on the edge of their seats as she address major issues concerning our society and their relationship to Dr. King's dreams and aspirations.

Ms. Yolanda Williams, computer science instructor, performs "AMERICA, THE BEAUTIFUL."

Deborah McCornell, Miss Utica Campus, did the program occasion.

Ms. Fisher (center) poses with Dr. Eugene Gaston, dean of instruction, and Johnny Crisler, dean of students, following the program.



VOC-TECH CRAFT COMMITTEE

The purpose of the Vocational Advisory Council and Craft Committees is to advise the administrators and teachers on various aspects of business and industry (training needs) as they relate to the world of work. Each occupational area has individuals who are knowledgeable about their particular program.

Individual committee members were asked to perform certain functions identified in the HCC-Handbook for Vocational-Technical Advisory Committee. Specific functions:

*Assist in determining the need for trained manpower in a specific area.
*Identify the need for supplemental/upgrade and/or new areas in which training should be developed.
*Assist in the placement of graduates by notifying specific programs of job openings and employing program graduates.
*Assist in determining program standards.
*Assist in identifying specific competencies which graduates are expected to attain.
*Periodically review the program curriculum to ensure that it is both realistic and practical.
*Provide feedback to the program relative to the competency of program graduates.
*Recommend the selection of new equipment for the program area.
*Assist the facility planning for renovation and new construction.
*Assist in developing community, business, and industry awareness of the specific programs.
*When feasible, assist with program enhancement resources such as speakers, and field trips.

Christmas Play

A Gift for Mom

Scene: This one-act hilarious play takes place in a small contemporary living room. The children are sitting quietly looking through books, catalogues, and magazines fantasizing on what to buy their moms for Christmas. Most of their ideas are wishful thinking as the evening passes with laughter and a song.

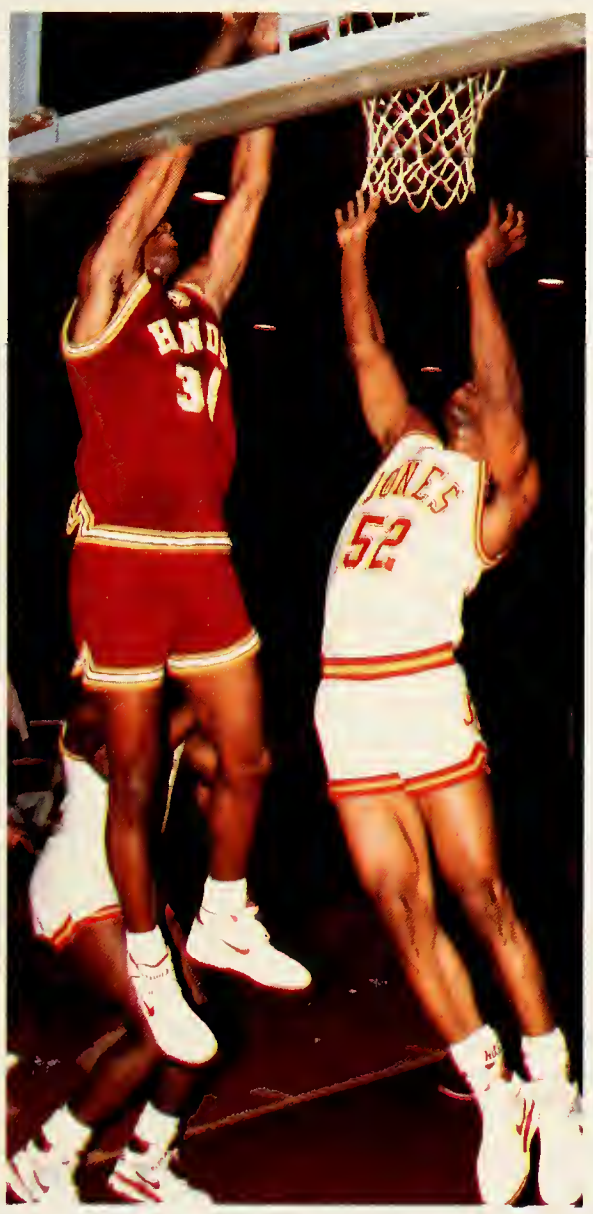
UTICA vs JONES

Chris receives the in bounding pass, throws to James for a two point play.

The Bulldogs traveled to Ellisville determined to defeat Jones. It was a pleasant December 1 night and the Bulldogs were heated. It was their first division game on enemy territory. So, the tension was high, anticipation soared. The Bulldogs jumped out with the first two points of the game, a trend that continued throughout the first half. The Bulldogs went into the dressing room leading 45-42. Eventhough, the lead was slight, the determination to maintain it seemed to heighten with each play. The end result was nothing short of surety. The Bulldogs defeated Jones by a score of 91-85. Ray Younger was the Bulldogs' leading scorer.

Brian was a major force in defeating Jones.

John was the strong shooter from the charity line.



Jones' offense was no match for the strength of David. He proved to be a power force at the board.

They all had their strengths and Marvin's was from the corner.

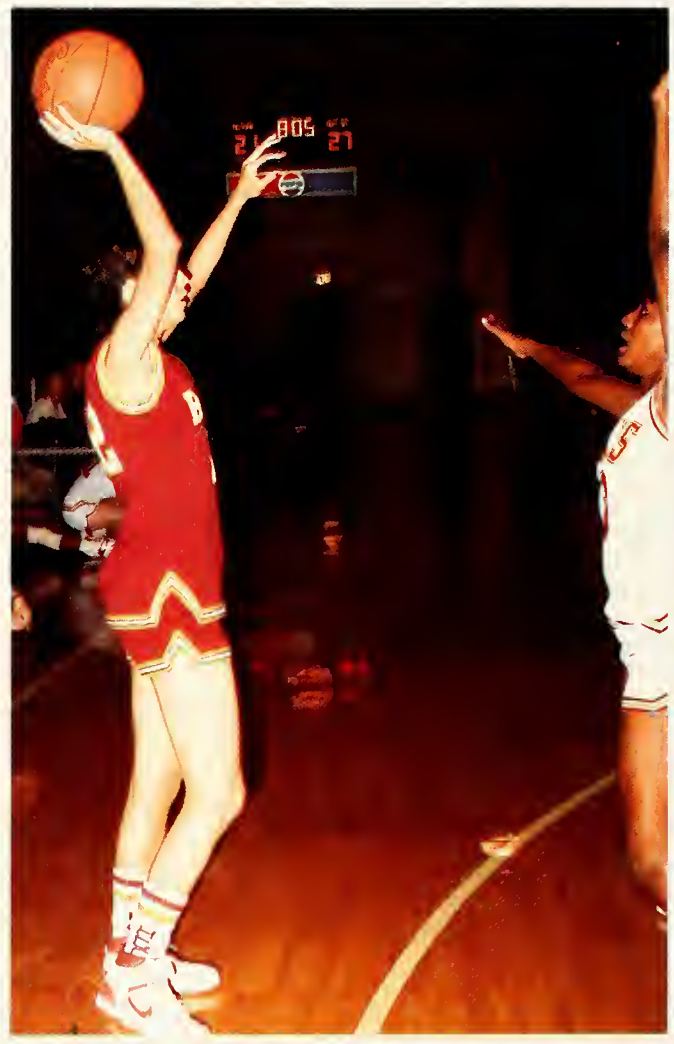
HOLMES VS UTICA

The Bulldogs traveled to Goodman on November 4 to play Holmes Junior College. The Bulldogs defeated Holmes 81-73.

Coach Owens seems to think the Lady Bulldogs have become too relaxed after maintaining a big lead throughout the first half and calls the girls in for a pep talk.

UTICA vs JONES

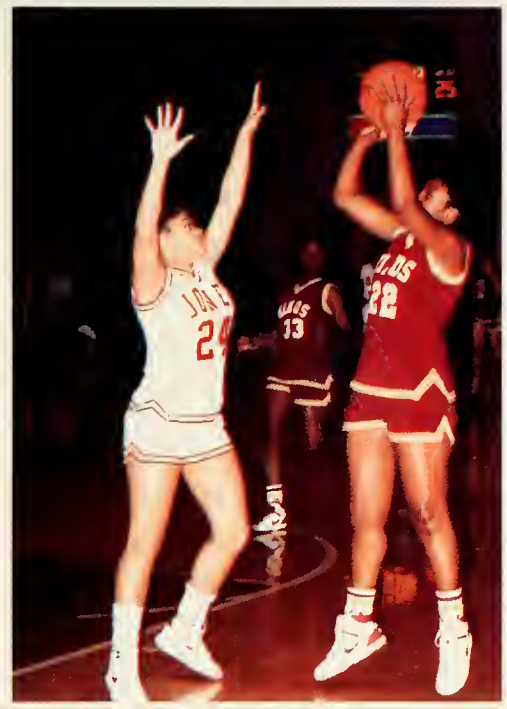
The warm December 1 game between the Bulldogs and Jones was the team's second conference game of the season. Again, it spelled victory for the Lady Bulldogs. The Bulldogs lead at halftime by only one point, 37-36, but finished the game with a 84-77 victory on enemy soil. The game's leading scorer was Leola Shaw. Stephanie out maneuvers her opponent and shoots for a two point play.



Andrea is known for her ability to penetrate to the board.

Stephanie out maneuvers her opponent and shoots for a two point play.

VICTORY



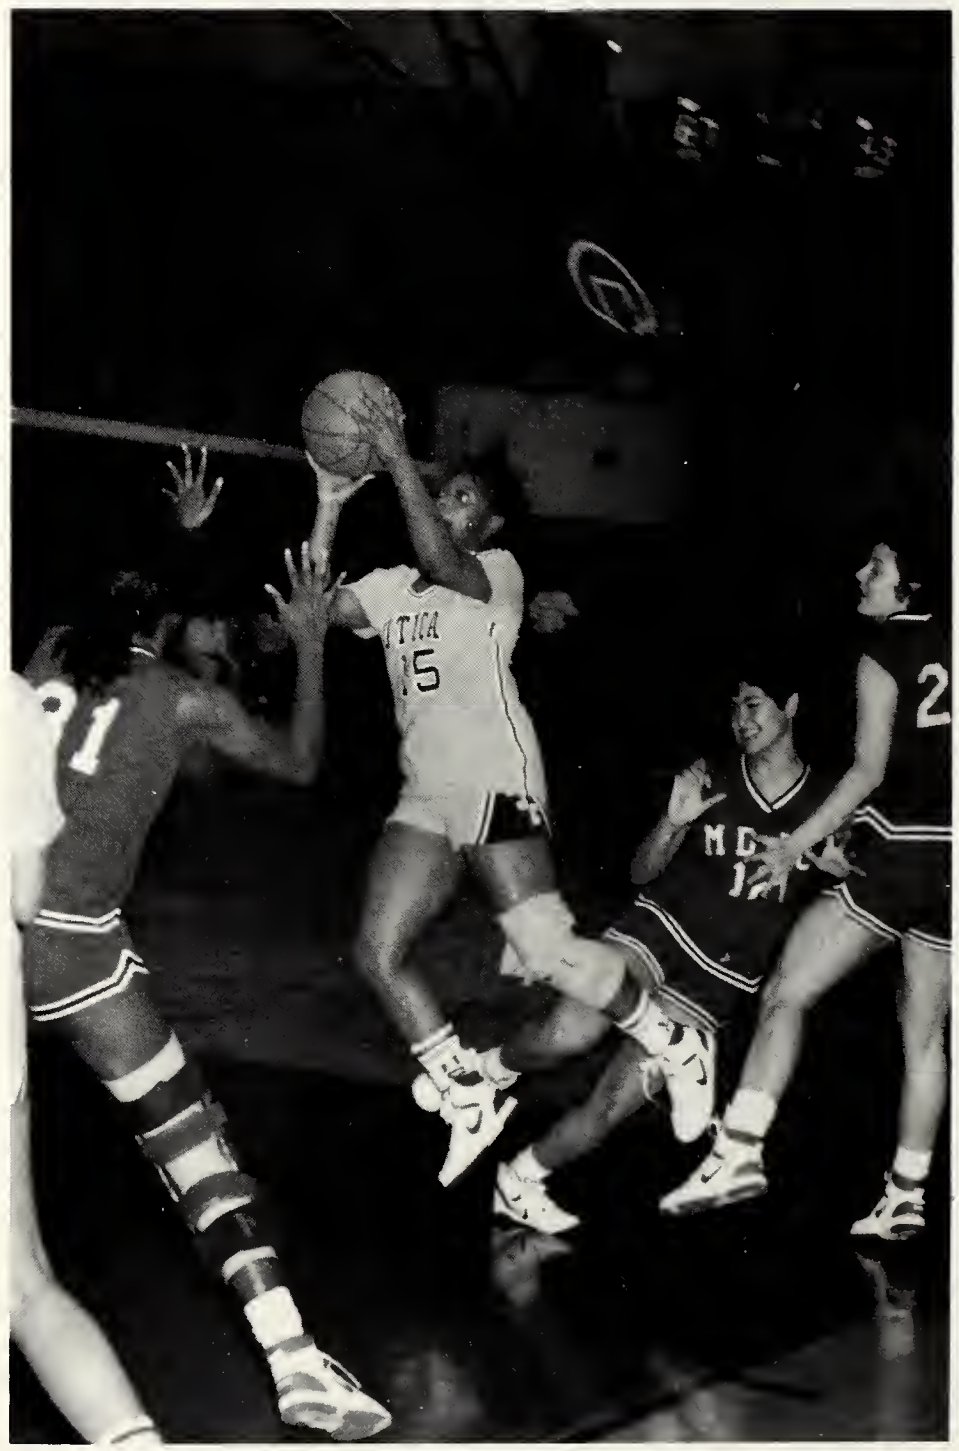
The Lady Bulldogs' strength lies with their ability to anticipate each other's move. They are smart, quick and play with complete uniformity. They all shine but never at the teams' expense. After they defeat their opponents, their enthusiasm for the men Bulldogs began. Their energy level is astounding.

UTICA vs MISSISSIPPI DELTA

The Lady Bulldogs were ready for victory. It was the first game of the season, November 3, and it was played on home court. The odds were in their favor. The Lady Bulldogs lead Mississippi Delta throughout the entire game. They played as if there was a score to settle. They went into the locker room with a 42-29 half time lead and finished the night with a 81-69 victory. Leola Shaw was the team's leading scorer, finishing in double digits, and Ursula Morris was leading rebounder.

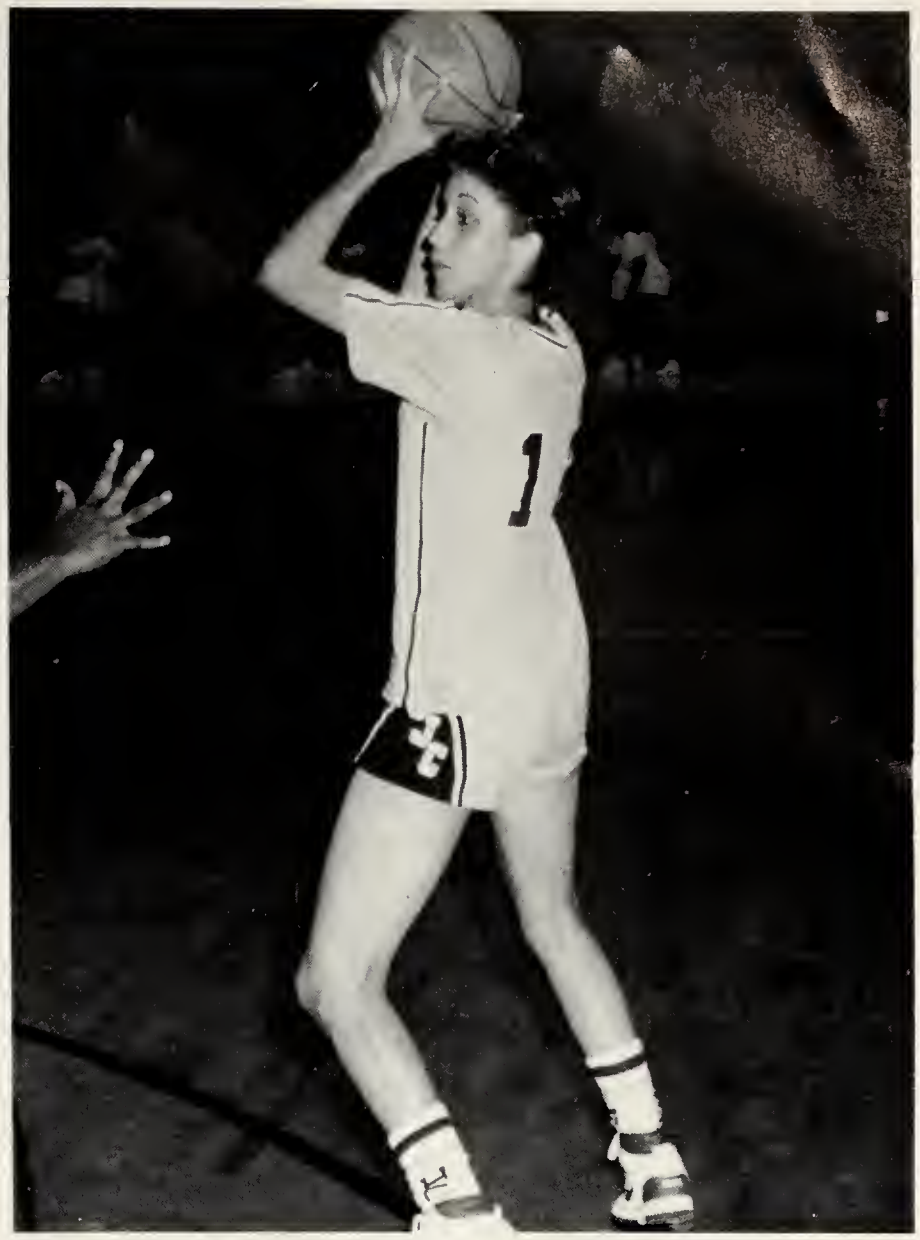
Mecherlyn shoots for a two point play. She is fouled and makes the extra point.

Andrea prepares to get in the right position for her sure shot.



Gela is fouled on the two point play.

Leola out powers her opponent, drives to the board and makes an easy bank shot.



Andrea passes off to Leola who lays in an easy two points.

Verlynsia disregards her opponent's height. She shoots for two points and draws the foul, creating a three point play.

Ursula out jumps her opponent for an easy two points.

THE BULLDOG ATTACK

James' strength is his ability to execute authority on the floor.

Chris drives to the board and makes a two point pass to James.

Marvin is good for two points from any where around the key.

Stacy shoots for his first two points of the game.

David guards the opponent with great intensity.

Coach Nelson coaches from the side line. He feels his defense needs to execute better.

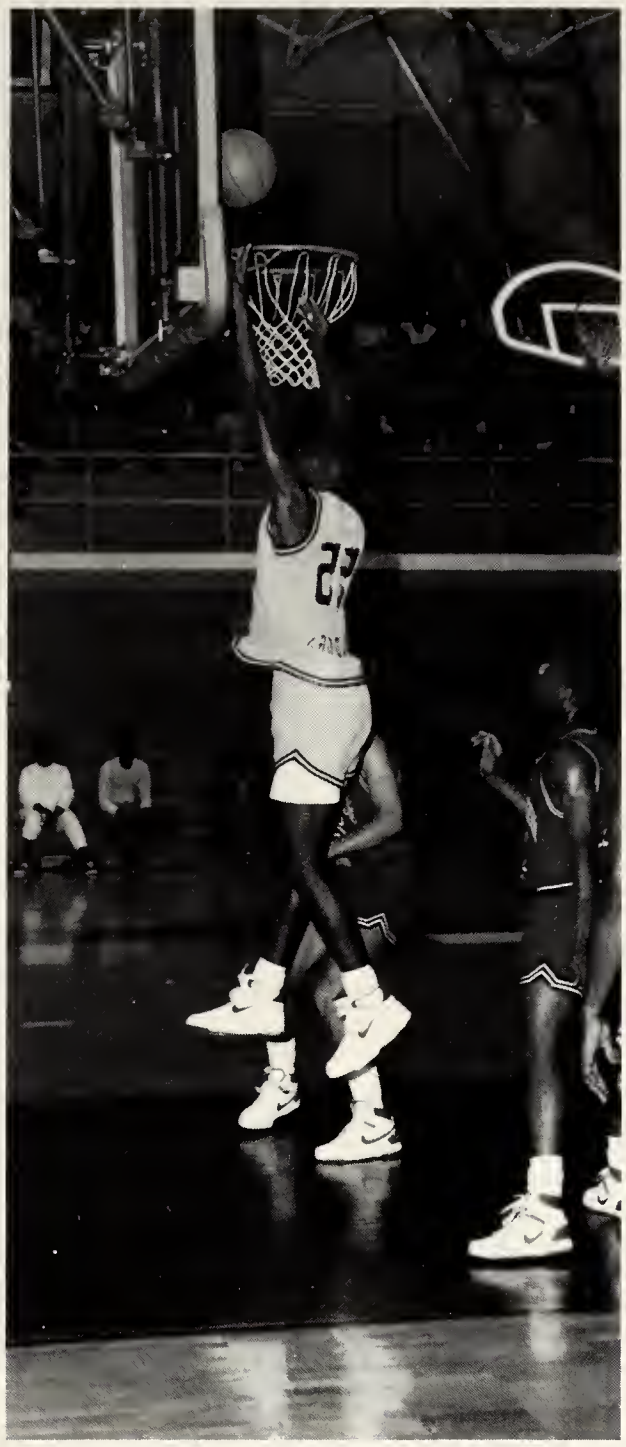
Chris is fouled and goes to the charity line for a three point conversion.

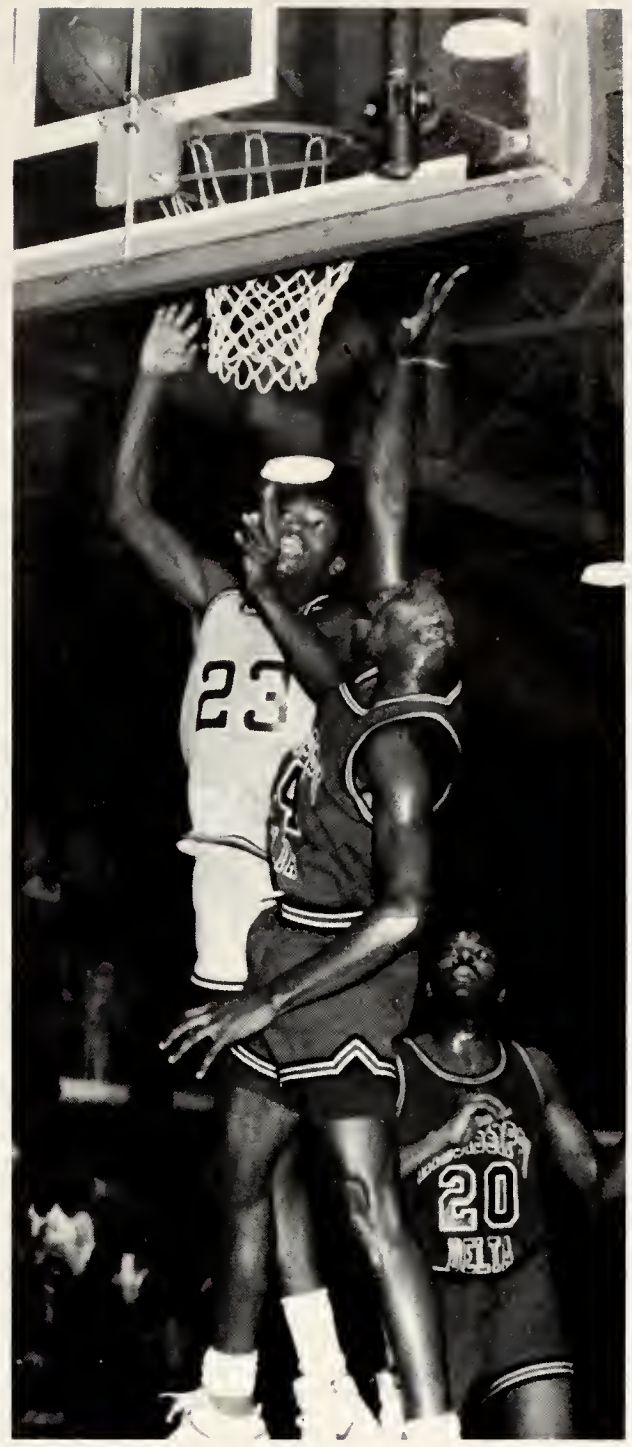
THE BULLDOGS VS MISSISSIPPI DELTA

It was a heated reunion between Mississippi Delta and the Bulldogs from beginning to end. The Bulldogs took the floor with their minds in the win mode. They had it all-speed, height, quickness, agility, strength, strong leadership, confidence and desire. It was tip-off time, time to execute. The Bulldogs were hot. With at least a 10 point lead, the Bulldogs led most of the first half. Nevertheless, the table turned during the second half. Mississippi Delta took the floor with fire in their eyes. They were out for blood. They refused defeat. Their determination to win was the key to their 78 to 72 victory over the Bulldogs.

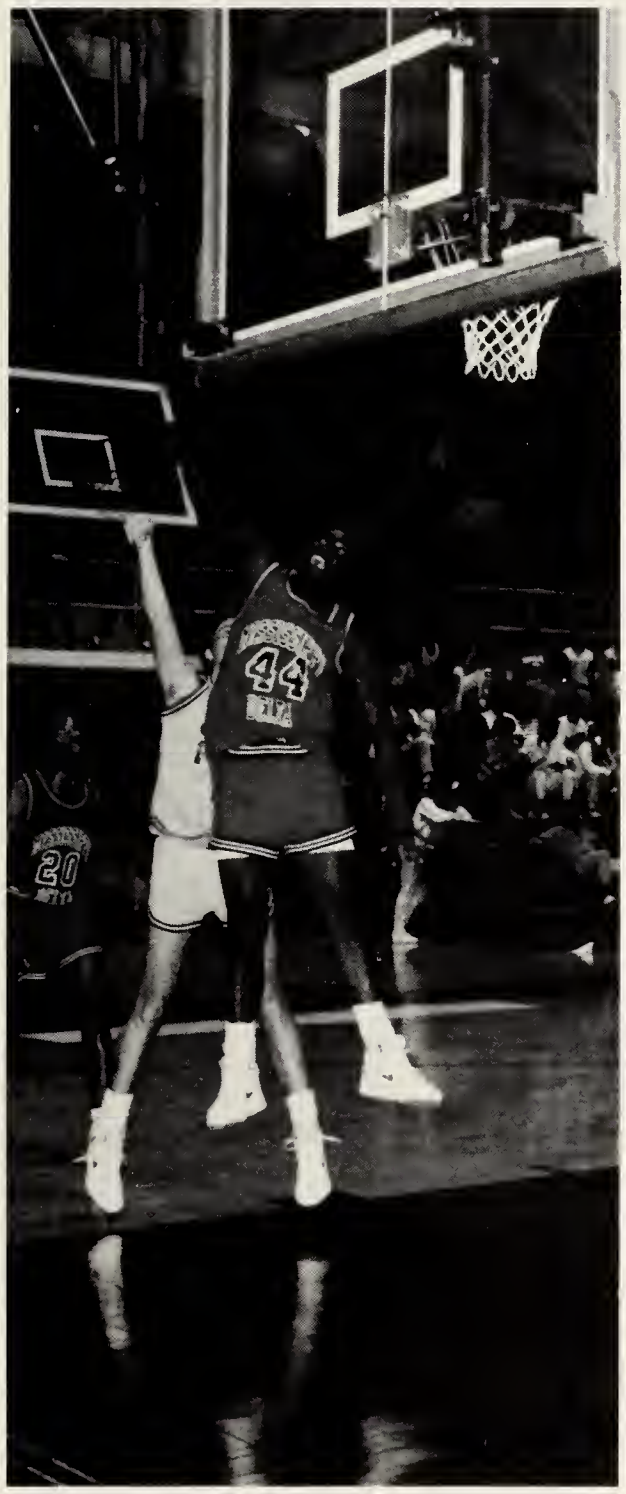
David's stamina was awesome but not enough to hold off the opponent.

Ray out steps the opponent for an easy lay up.

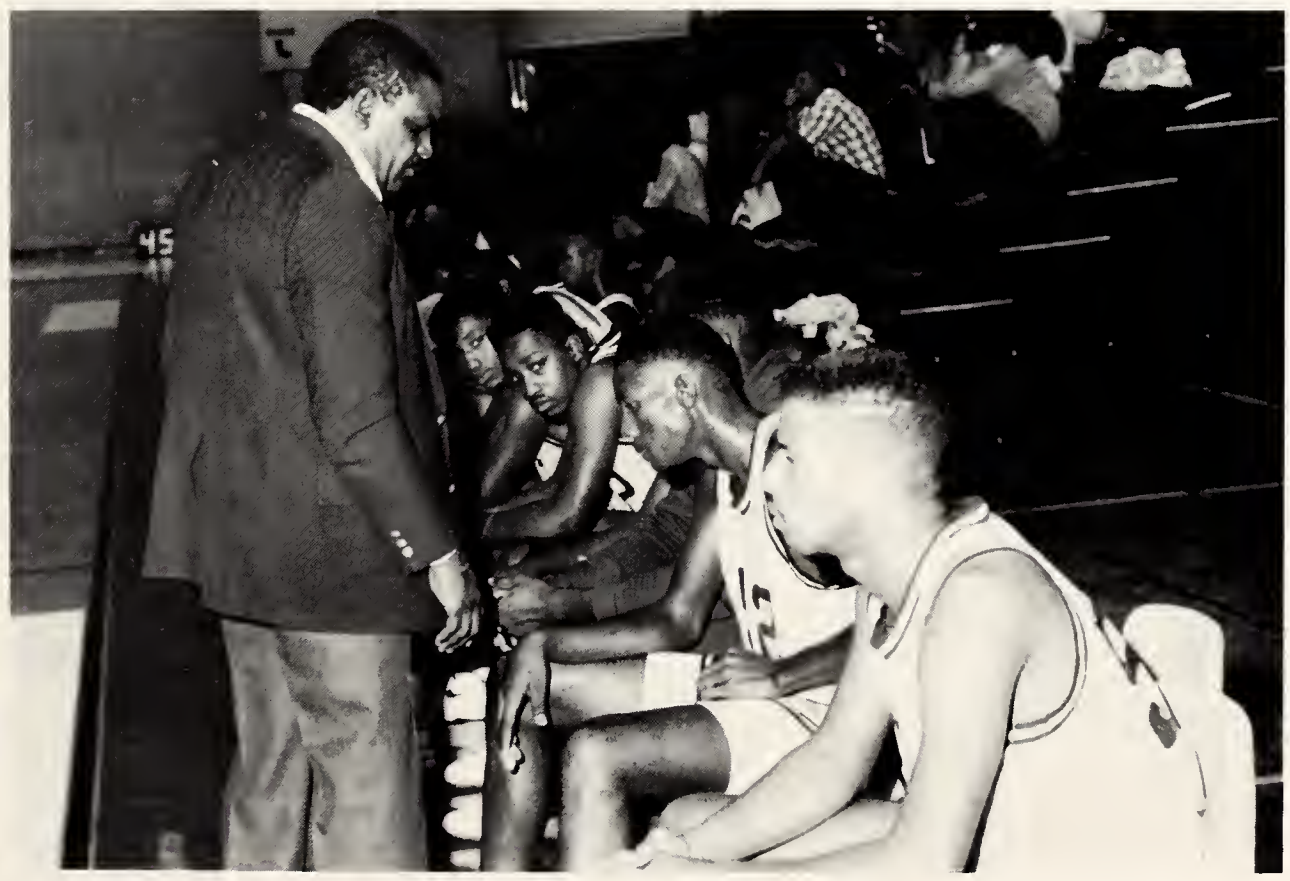




David and Fred ruled the boards throughout the first half.



The second half brought about complete chaos for the Bulldogs. Nothing fell.



Coach Nelson becomes frustrated with Jamie's ball handling and pulls him for the same.
